

Killamarsh Infant and Nursery School

We are at the end of another term.....

and again we have been very busy. This term has seen the children learning about the environment, Beatrix Potter and mini beasts. I have had many sleepless nights about the ladybirds in the Reception classes and I am still keeping my fingers crossed.

Next term the children will be involved in learning more about the wider world around them. We will be putting our curriculum onto our website each half term so that you can keep up to date with what your child is learning. This has been part of our second cycle within the curriculum we have been developing. I know many of you have commented on how much the children have enjoyed learning each topic and I can see as I walk around the school some of the information the children have brought in from home.

Parents in school

Thank you to all parents who have attended our meetings this term and our work shadowing session. All Y2 parents have had the opportunity to find out about assessment and in particular the standard assessment tasks/tests we use to make sure our judgements are in line with others in the country. Y1 parents have had the opportunity to find out about the phonics screening that will take place next term. All Y2 children who did not achieved the required level will be screened again.

Race at our place

We will be holding our Race at Your Place on Friday 21st June. At the beginning of next term each child will receive a sponsor form. We want all of the children to take part and to dress up to run preferably in pink. I know many of you will be running for Race for Life during June and we are so pleased to be able to do this in the playground. Our aim is to raise £500 which is about £3.50 per child. Let's see if we can do it.

Parents are welcome to join in but we only have enough medals and numbers for children. Please think of someone they could run for. Y2B will be running at 9.30-10am, Y2/1 AS from 10-10.30am and Y1W from 11-11.30am. In the afternoon the Nursery children will run at 1.30-2.00 pm and the Reception children from 2.15-2.45 pm. Race will be a very loose term- but we will see how many laps we can do.

Y2/1 holiday task

This holiday have a go at making an information book about something you are interested in and would like to share with others. Read information books to find out more by going to the library and draw pictures and make your book/ booklet really interesting.

Have a wonderful week. Enjoy your child/ren and we will keep our fingers crossed for some sun!

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Back Page Story Headline

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

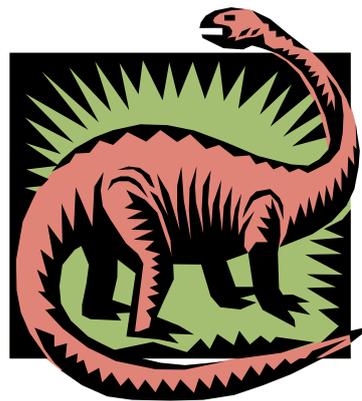

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.
